

A school interview

My name is Kayla and I will interview a person working in my school.
Can you guess who he is?

Kayla: Hello, Mr Roberts, and thank you for seeing me today.

Mr Roberts: Hi, Kayla. It's not a problem. What is your first question?

Kayla: Do you like your job?

Mr Roberts: Oh, yes, it is very interesting and responsible.

Kayla: When do you come to school and when do you leave?

Mr Roberts: Actually, I am one of the first people to come to school, around 7 am, and one of the last to leave, around 5 or 6 pm.

Kayla: What do you do every day?

Mr Roberts: I spend a lot of time in my office, answering e-mails and having meetings. I also decide what to do with school finances. Sometimes, I even go out to check if the cars are properly parked.

Kayla: Which part of your job do you like best?

Mr Roberts: When I talk to students who come to my office. I also like working with teachers and parents.

Kayla: Thank you, Mr Roberts

Mr Roberts: Thank you, Kayla.

Answer the questions.

- Who is Mr Roberts – a teacher, a secretary, a principal or a member of the cleaning staff?
- Does he work short or long hours?
- Which of his duties do you think are most difficult? Which are easy?
- Would you like to do this job? Why (not)?
- Do you know the person who does this job in your school?
- What is he/she like?
- Does he/she also have a lot of responsibilities?
- Can you interview him/ her?

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

[illegible]