

My neighbourhood

I live in a small village, which hasn't got any neighbourhoods. You can walk around the entire village in one hour. There aren't any busy streets, big car parks or many shops. We have one main street, called the Long Street, with everything we need. There is one restaurant and two cafés.

We don't have a cinema or a theatre all the time. In the summer there is open-air cinema in the park, and theatre plays come to the local library.

There aren't parks or a sports centre. But my friends and I don't mind. We go cycling in the hills and the forest. It's more fun, because every time you see something different.

This is my favourite place – it is the lake. This is why we don't need a swimming pool. When the water is too cold to swim, you can have picnics or take a walk and look for animals. (We don't have a zoo, either!) This is my family, feeding the ducks.
