I am writing this letter to express my strong feelings about the sculpture installed near my house.

Dear Madam/Sir
Draga gopsođo/gospodine

Yesterday afternoon I visited the library.
Jučer sam posjetila knjižnicu.

I wanted to return a book I've read and borrow another one.
Željela sam vratiti knjigu koju sam pročitala i posuditi novu.

I kept the book after due date and I was aware that I should be charged with a fine.
Zadržala sam knjigu dulje od roka za posudbu i bila sam svjesna da će mi biti naplaćena kazna.

However, the librarian who worked at the desk yesterday at 4pm was rude.
Međutim, knjižničar koji je radio na pultu jučer u 4 sata poslije podne, bio je nepristojan.

He yelled at me and said that I had broken the rules and had no respect for others who wanted to read the book.
Vikao je na mene i rekao da sam prekršila pravila i da nemam poštovanja za ostale koji bi željeli pročitati knjigu.

All the other visitors of the library, and the employees as well, were listening and telling him to calm down.
Svi ostali posjetitelji knjižnice, kao i zaposlenici su ga slušali i govorili mu da se smiri.

He kept yelling until I just left the money and the book at the counter and ran out.
Vikao je dok nisam ostavila novac i knjigu na pultu i istrčala van.

I hope you will explain to the gentleman that he didn't have the right to yell at me.
Nadam se da ćete gospodinu objasniti da nije imao pravo vikati na mene.

However, after this unpleasant experience, I must inform you that I will continue to visit some of the other libraries in the city.
Međutim, nakon ovog neugodnog iskustva, moram Vas obavijestiti da ću nastaviti posjećivati neku od ostalih knjižnica u gradu.
